

THE MYTHS, MEDICINE AND MANAGEMENT OF MOTHERS' MILK

March 12-13, 2010
Berkeley, CA USA

SWAG Conferences LLC

FACULTY

Fritzi Drosten RN, IBCLC

Fritzi Drosten has worked in all aspects of lactation consulting, including hospital post-partum care, intensive care nursery, outpatient clinic, home visiting, and phone advice. She authored the breastfeeding chapter of the text, Ambulatory Obstetrics and Gynecology, Third Edition, 1999, published by the UCSF Press. She is active in the International Lactation Consultant Association and the Bay Area Lactation Associates. She works as the lactation consultant in the Intensive Care Nursery at UCSF Children's Hospital, teaches the prenatal breastfeeding multiples classes there as well as serving on the facility wide Breastfeeding Task Force.

Thomas Hale R.Ph., Ph.D.

Dr. Thomas W. Hale is a clinical pharmacologist, professor at Texas Tech University School of Medicine, and author of Medications and Mothers' Milk. He has many years experience lecturing in all areas of pharmacology and therapeutics. He is an expert on the use of medications in breastfeeding women and he has traveled the world lecturing on this topic. He is considered one of the leading experts in the field of human lactation and the use of medication. He has written or co-authored more than 25 publications, dozens of abstracts, and numerous book chapters. Dr. Hale currently has a number of research projects underway on various aspects of human lactation, medications, clinical pharmacology, and mastitis.

Julie A. Mennella Ph.D.

Dr. Julie Mennella's major research interest is the ontogeny of taste and smell preferences in humans. Her research areas include the transfer of flavors from the mother's diet to both amniotic fluid and mother's milk; the effects of maternal alcohol consumption on women's health and infant nutrition and behavior; and the role of genetics and early experiences on the establishment of long-term flavor preferences and food habits. Dr. Mennella is a Member of the Monell Chemical Senses Center, a nonprofit basic research institute in Philadelphia, PA. She received her Ph.D. from the Department of Behavioral Sciences at The University of Chicago. Dr. Mennella is the recipient of grants from the National Institute of Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism and the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development and she is the author or co-author of numerous research papers which have appeared in publications such as The New England Journal of Medicine, Pediatrics, Journal of the American Medical Association, Journal of Clinical Therapeutics and Pharmacology, American Journal of Clinical Nutrition and Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences.
